Freshmen to Hold Wells-Fargo Dance Tomorrow Night

Jack Kelly to Play for Second Event Sponsored by Frosh

In a setting of hay and wagon wheels, the freshman class will hold a "Wells-Fargo" dance tomorrow night in the town of "Dry Gulch," a settlement formerly known as Madigan gymnasium.

Dancing will be from nine to one with music by Jack Kelly and his nine-piece orchestra. The purpose of the affair is to provide the frosh with funds needed to erase the debt incurred when they sponsored the annual Thank You dance last February.

Costume Prizes Given

Costumes of the days of '49 will be in order, with cash prizes given to those dressed most comically or appropriately.

Instead of the customary few committee members, a large group of 25 has arranged the details of the event. Robert Skibinski, frosh president, heads the dance committee.

Admission to the dance is 50 cents, ladies being admitted free.

Sponsor Two Dances

The class of '41 is the first freshman class to present two social events in one semester. The services of Kelly and his orchestra have been donated to the frosh for the evening.

Dante Club Men Attend Conclave

Professor Hagerty to Address Meeting This Evening

Dr. James L. Hagerty will be the featured speaker this evening at the three day convention of Italian clubs of bay region colleges and universities being sponsored by the University of San Francisco Maraschi club which was officially opened last night at the University of San Francisco and will conclude tomorrow evening with a formal dance at the Palace hotel.

According to Tully Simoni, president of the Italian club's convention, Dr. Hagerty will speak on "Dante and His Influence on Italian Culture."

Professor Hagerty

"Our purpose," Simoni stated, "in sponsoring this convention bringing together the Italian college youths of the bay region is to bring about a deep and fundamental appreciation and realization of Italian culture, and a greater knowledge of the traditions of the Italian people."

Opened Yesterday

The Italian club's convention opened yesterday evening with the registration of delegates at the University of San Francisco, and words of welcome by Tully Simoni, convention president, and Father Harold E. Ring, S.J., president of the University of San Francisco. The evening's session concluded with the showing of an Italian travelogue and music by the Neapolitan trio.

Solemn High Mass was celebrated this morning at SS Peter and Paul's church in San Francisco, with Father Joseph Galli, S.C., pastor, celebrating the Mass, and Father Eugene Bacigalupi, S.J., of the University of Santa Clara, preaching the sermon.

Father Galli addressed the assembled club at the morning session, and Mr. Chauncey Tramutolo, alumnus of the University of Santa Clara, was the featured speaker at the luncheon.

Speakers at the afternoon session will be Mr. Reynald J. Bianchi, assistant city attorney and alumnus of the University of San Francisco, who will talk on "Pursuits Open to Italian-American Youth," and Professor Armand De Martini, '27,

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 11, 1938

Dear Brother Albert:

I congratulate you and through you, the faculty, the student body and the alumni upon the Diamond Jubilee of St. Mary's. With what satisfaction all friends of the College must look back in retrospect upon all the fine things accomplished since St. Mary's made its beginning in behalf of higher education.

I trust that this institution which has achieved such a fine record in training young men for citizenship and for their work in life may continue with increasing success its service in behalf of God and country and the youth who come under its influence.

Very sincerely yours,

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Brother Albert,
President,
Saint Mary's College,
Saint Mary's College, California.

President Salutes Saint Mary's

Highlight of the civic banquet held Tuesday in San Francisco was the reading of a letter from Franklin D. Roosevelt, president of the United States. The congratulatory message was read by Brother Albert, president of the college.

Civic Banquet Speaker

Georgetown University Head Gives Views on Education

"The college classroom should be a 'mental gymnasium' where sustained conscious effort is exacted and self-exertion and self-activity demanded," Very Reverend Arthur A. O'Leary, president of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., told a banquet audience honoring Saint Mary's College 75th anniversary in the Palace hotel last Tuesday evening.

"The bare accumulation of facts is too often made the end of college education," Father O'Leary said. In citing the class room as a "mental gymnasium," he said "that class exercises should develop self-reliant expresison, ability to hold one's own in an argument, and practical command of the learning acquired."

"The teacher is not so much a lecturer as a stimulator of the mind," he declared in lauding the teaching of the Christian Brothers on the Pacific coast since the founding of Saint Mary's in 1863.

Discipline Needed

"One who examines closely present conditions will see at a glance that what we need is not more technical experts," he maintained, "but men and women of disciplined intellectual power and moral courage—persons gifted with a broad and genuine culture, a humanity which is a result of harmonious development of all the faculties of the soul."

Moral obligation to God and country should be the primary teaching of every college, Father O'Leary contended; "In every branch of learning Saint Mary's can look with gratitude to the unselfish labor of many great teachers whose controlling ambition was to send forth worthy men, skilled in the arts and sciences, but guided by the dictates of the moral law."

Other featured speakers at the banquet were Brother Albert, president of the college, who responded to Very Rev. O'Leary, and Most Reverend John J. Mitty, Archbishop of San Francisco. Toastmaster for the evening was Major General Paul B. Malone, United States army retired and member of the Saint Mary's board of trustees.

Carl Ravazza, local graduate, sang during the banquet and was accompanied by a string quartet from NBC. Co-chairman for the entertainment program were Bob McAndrews, Saint Mary's graduate, and George Callan, Saint Mary's club member.

Honorary committee was headed by Most Rev. John J. Mitty, Archbishop of San Francisco, chairman; Mayor Angleo Rossi, vice-chairman; C. Wesley Davis, general chairman, and Charles R. Pohley, general secretary.

Presidential Talks

Talks by presidential nominees will be given this afternoon at one o'clock period in room D201. All classes will be dismissed.

Executive Council Votes to Raise ASSMC Card Fee

Budget Committee Appointed to Allot Funds for New Year

Saint Mary's ASSMC new constitution was approved this week at the final reading before the executive council Wednesday and will be submitted for vote by the student body in next week's election.

Students will henceforth pay $2.50 for their student body cards and the accompanying priviledges that go with the purchase instead of the former $1.00 fee. Such were the findings of a special budget committee.

The reasons given for the increase in fees were that the former dollar fee was insufficient to carry on the heavy burden of activities and still remain free from debt.

With a larger amount for cards, each activity would be given a specified budget to work with during the entire year, and the all student body sponsored activities could in turn be given students with no admission charge.

The committee report stated that with the increase of $1.50 in purchase price, that the Saint Mary's student body card will remain the most inexpensive on the coast.

Debate manager, Herschel Smyth, entered the names of William Bourne and Wyman Reilly for debating awards, which was passed by the council.

President Mana read an invitation from the Holy Names College of Oakland to attend a play sponsored by the dramatic society. Mana urged the members to purchase tickets to the affair.

A fifteen dollar appropriation was voted to send Bill Bettencourt to Los Angeles with the Phoenix during its baseball tour of the southland.

Brick Pile to Make Final Appearance Of Year April 28

Publication of the Brick Pile, student magazine, for the 1937-38 year will be concluded with the appearance of the next issue on April 28.

Joseph McAleese '28, prominent in Pacific coast yachting circles, will be the subject of the feature article by Charles Carroll, junior yachting enthusiast.

Among other contributions to the April number will be a poem by Brother V. Leo, a word of praise to the senior class by Brother Albert, and an article on the recent debate tour of the northwest by Wyman Riley.

A short story by William Spehar, a column by Jack Reilley and the Editor's Forum will also be found in the concluding issue of the magazine.

Four Seniors Win Commencement Day Honors

Maxima Cum Laude Award to Go To Lynn Hull

Graduation of the class of '38 at the May commencement will find four seniors leaving with honors, it was announced by the recorder's office.

Lynn Hull, a major in economics, is the only student graduating maxima cum laude. Hull, who has been conducting the Sacramento Northern special train to the school for some years, received 106 units of A's with the remainder B's for his four years here.

Magna cum laude honors will go to Lawrence Mana, student body president, and to James Brady, formerly assistant sports editor of the COLLEGIAN. Mana is a philosophy major in the School of Arts and Letters, while Brady is majoring in economics.

Edward McMahon, known as a student poetry contributor to the Brick Pile, is the only student graduating cum laude. McMahon carries a split English-economics major.

This year's list of honor graduates shows a large decrease from the number graduated in 1937. At that time, five students graduated maxima cum laude, two magna cum laude, and three cum laude.

Brother Leo to Talk On 'Education for Personality'

Speaking on varied topics, Brother Leo, noted writer and speaker, will deliver four off-campus addresses within the next two weeks.

"Education for Personality" is the subject on which Brother Leo will speak at the Piedmont high school auditorium tonight at 8 p. m. This lecture is for the benefit of the school's loan fund.

On Wednesday at 8 p. m. he will talk at the Holy Names high school in Oakland, about "The Isle of Dreams."

The American Institute of Banking on the following Monday will again hear from Brother Leo in the next of his series of talks.

In response to hundreds of requests, Brother Leo will repeat his widely acclaimed lectures on "Personality and Public Speaking" the night of May 6 at the Community Playhouse, 609 Sutter street, San Francisco.

Semester Banquet Scheduled By Pre-Legal Club

The Pre-Legal club apparently would rather dine than argue.

Taking the place of a second mock trial, a banquet has been scheduled by the Pre-Legal club. It will be held at some date to be selected later. The trial was called off because of lack of time and material, according to Leo Lippencott, president.

Lippencott also stated that at a future meeting election of officers for the next school year will take place. The date for this meeting has not been set but it will probably be the last of the term.

Collegian

All staff members must be present at the COLLEGIAN meeting Monday, at 12:20 o'clock in G-110.

Annual Political Campaign Gets Under Way Here

Hotly Contested Race For Presidency Seen As Four Enter

Once again, virtues of campus political big-wigs were extolled by adjective applying nominating seniors in the annual student body meeting, held Wednesday.

Nominated for the position of ASSMC president for the fall term were John Sullivan, editor of the 1938 Gael; Joseph Hurley, and Leo Englert, varsity football players; and John Williams, president of the junior class.

Vice president nominations made included Herschel Smythe, varsity debate manager; Joseph Cone, second vice president of the newly formed YMI; Kenneth Meitz, varsity basketball player; and William Glackin, associate editor of the Brickpile and COLLEGIAN columnist.

Two names were submitted for the office of student body secretary: William Kirkham, associate editor of the Gael and Robert Fleitz, prominent junior day student.

Competing for ASSMC treasurer will be James Moore, David Olsen, William Bloodgood, and Norman MacPhail.

George Dooley was the only student nominated for the position of Intramural sports manager.

Six candidates were introduced by Yell Leader Ernie Russo for the two assistant yell lead posts. Bill Davie, a member of the tennis team is the only junior up for the job. Sophomores named include Herbert Hauser, Lawrence Moser, and Dave Cunningham. LeRoy Earment and Lester Dole are the two freshmen running.

"Life" Comes to College

Camera Study of Local Student Made by Magazine

Lynn Hull, the only railroad conductor who has gone through college and worked at his railroad duties, simultaneously became the subject of Life's cameras this week.

Horace Bristol, photographer for the national picture magazine spent last Tuesday covering an assignment on Hull, Sacramento-Northern conductor and college senior.

Hull's excellent scholastic record, which he has consistently maintained during his four years here despite his many railroad duties, prompted Life to order a feature article woven around his college activities as well as his work, Bristol said.

Many Snapshots

From all angles inside the train and classroom, Life Cameraman Bristol snapped pictures of Hull collecting tickets, performing routine tasks and while attending a lecture in Brother James class.

When Hull was first given the Saint Mary's special "run" he remained on the train, read magazines, ate his lunch and returned to Oakland with the special in the afternoon. Because of a suggestion of a high school civics teacher, Hull came to Brother James for advice, which later caused him to enroll as a student.

A definite date for release of the story has not yet been set, Bristol stated, but it will appear before graduation.

Cottle Oratorical Contest Finals Due Thursday

The finals of the Cottle oratorical contest will be staged next Thursday evening in De la Salle lounge. Tryouts were to have been held yesterday, but the limited number of entrants caused William Simon, forensic director, to automatically place the aspirants in the finals.

Eligible students for the award are William Bourne, winner of the Sullivan oratorical prize; Wyman Riley, COLLEGIAN editor of last year, and Ed La Berge, Bill Glackin, and Joseph Potstada.

The award is a gold medal, donated in honor of Rev. John E. Cottle, graduate of Saint Mary's and a member of the class of '77.

Entertainment at the contest will be supplied by Jim Brady, sophomore vocalist, who will be accompanied by George Dacres.

Names of the three judges have not been disclosed, but it is believed that Francis Healey, district attorney of Contra Costa county, will be one of the three.

Four Presidential Candidates Present Platforms and Activity Records

Sullivan Platform

Lives of great men—and student body presidents—remind us of the very salient fact that promises and pledges need more than apt phrasing to be worth while. Theory needs practical application and more important, direct action.

We are deeply grateful that the associated students have seen fit to allow us to run for the office of student body president, and grateful, too, for the opportunity to present some of the ideas which we think will work for the betterment of the college and the associated students. We solemnly promise that should we receive this honor, the highest the students can pay to one of their organization, we will carry out every single one of the proposals listed.

Nothing has been mentioned which cannot be accomplished. We hope that every student will trust us when we state that with their permission, we will cause each plank of our platform to be effected. Furthermore, with the cooperation of all, we firmly believe that next year can be a banner year for the associated students and Saint Mary's college.

We ask your support and confidence in the forthcoming election. It is our intention to explain each point of the program to all the students at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The following is what we intend to do if elected:

1. Extend social program. Realizing the limitations imposed upon the administration this year, we look with much-hope to the future, especially with the proposed constitution making allowance for this present curtailment of student activity.

Under this social program should be included a return of tea dances. At least six of such functions during the year would not be an over-emphasis on social life. We also favor the presentation of a distinct innovation in lounge entertainment.

Included under this would be a regular schedule of outside lecturers, with students indicating their choice of speakers and topics.

We also favor the staging of more campus dances, run in accordance with the approval of the social committee. It is our intention to plan entertainment in the form of music, etc., during the Lenten season, to which outsiders will be invited.

Students need a well-balanced program of scholastic endeavor and social life. It is our intention to see that they get it.

2. A program improving student life, which we will explain to the students this afternoon.

3. Student participation in athletics. According to the catalogue, students are allowed the privilege of participating "in many athletics through the various teams which represent the college in intercollegiate games held annually and the intra-mural games which play an important part in campus activities."

We suggest that students see the catalogue under the section entitled "Physical Education" and then ask if this has been granted, if students have been allowed these privileges.

It is our very strong contention that they have not—but they can, and will, if we are allowed to put our program effect. We offer more funds for intramural activity and sincerely pledge ourselves to work whole-heartedly with intramural manager, George Dooley, in making intramural sports really and truly student activities.

4. Further, we maintain that there is no reason why, with the excellent track facilities possible, there is not better care of those facilities. It is our proposal and plan to see that the track is kept in good condition, even though student participation in this sport is not as great as in other departments.

5. Facilities for day students. It is not especially to the credit of the associated students that day students have been given so little consideration. We plan to make available athletic equipment and locker rooms in Madigan gymnasium. Shorts, socks, and other equipment can be obtained and we intend to see that it is obtained.

6. Again, day students have been slighted, unintentionally, in other departments. If elected, we would request every class to have at least one day student representing them on the executive council so that there will be fair representation at all times. We would urge a closer cooperation and better spirit.

PLATFORM

If you place confidence in my capabilities sufficiently to elect me president of the Associated Students of Saint Mary's College, I promise to cooperate as much as possible with every student and to do all in my power to further your interests individually as well as those of Saint Mary's college.

Every plank of this platform is feasible, for every effect there is a sufficient cause. I make no promise that I can not fulfill.

Past-innovated and traditional activities, e.g., the Brother Leo lecture, the passion play, I will, of course, maintain.

There are certain activities being pursued by the student body which I feel could well afford to be expanded. These are to wit:

Dramatics: Collaboration with a local women's college in the presentation of at least three modern plays both at the college on our campus, and then elsewhere if feasible, proceeds of which are to be placed in the little theatre fund.

Radio: A return to the radio field, in which Saint Mary's college actively participated, some time ago, when we had a weekly program.

Student interest will be fostered by at least four student body meetings a semester, and the constitution of the associated students, which now has been seen by only a few, will be published for the edification of the student body. Such damaging insinuations on the morale of any student group as were foolishly adopted in the past year, and which result only in further damage, will be discouraged, and terminated.

A strict accounting of all student body funds will be procured and ready for investigation at all times by any student.

A revision of the cut system on some favorable basis.

My platform for innovations is based on the fact that each fall semester is characterized by inactivity of the student group because of lack of funds. To remedy this situation I would immediately on returning to school promote:

A student body raffle, which if properly conducted at this period of the year would undoubtedly be a tremendous success.

A student body smoker. A simple, inexpensive activity which will net the student body a substantial financial return.

Post-California dance. To be held in the east bay, and which according to student opinion could not help but be an outstanding success.

The funds from these three affairs would insure an early intramural program, and spring tea dances, in the latter case removing the congestion which has deprived us of invitations from two different colleges this semester.

All afternoon tea dances, when possible, would be converted into supper dances and a small charge to eradicate the extra expense would be levied. Those who have attended an afternoon tea dance in the lounge, and an evening supper dance in the dining hall will agree that the difference is well worth the price charged.

An expansion of the social calendar. Saint Mary's students should have at least six tea dances. If started early in the spring semester nothing would interfere with the traditional four with Holy Names and Dominican. Relationships with San Francisco college for women, two years ago very enjoyable, should and will be renewed. There are other prominent girls' schools in the vicinity which would welcome the establishment of social contacts with the men of Saint Mary's.

To raise a minor sports fund, and thus insure the perpetuation of this movement, a mammoth intercollegiate boxing show, to be held at a San Francisco auditorium, presenting bouts between representatives of Saint Mary's and Santa Clara. With the backing of the alumni and the Saint Mary's club, in addition to the high partisan feeling on the part of the people of San Francisco, this show would result in a tremendous fund to be used in the furtherance of minor sports.

To insure a representative Saint Mary's exhibit at the San Francisco world's fair. Santa Clara has formed extensive plans. There is no reason why Saint Mary's as usual shouldn't be tops in everything in which she participates.

I have placed before you an ambitious program, but not too heavy to be successfully carried. My primary consideration has been that ability without money to speak for it is useless. Consequently I have improved our financial position by increased money making projects and other activities which formerly were a drain on the student body self-sufficient.

With the increased student funds there must be an increased activity socially, culturally, and athletically.

7. We plan to provide noon-hour entertainment for day students by a phonograph to be placed in the lounge under the care of a manager. Other universities and colleges do this and we feel that the expense, being very slight, would be justified.

8. Publications. In the past day students have done most of the work on the official organ, the SAINT MARY'S COLLEGIAN. It is our policy and a very definite plank of our platform, that some recognition, other than medals, be given the men who participate in publication work.

9. Campus clubs. We favor and advocate a program of cooperation between the associated students and campus clubs, especially when the activities of those clubs work for the betterment of the college and student body. Examples of this are the Economics Honor society, the APGU, the Eire Oge, Knights of Columbus, Italian club, and every other organization on the campus deserving support in special instances.

In connection with this would be an annual club day in which every group would participate and contribute to the program. The success of the recent debate congress, Saint Patrick's day, etc., prove the feasibility of such a plan.

10. Theatre. We will get definite action on the proposed outdoor theatre. We will discover once and for all whether or not the matter can be accomplished. If it cannot, at least the students will be informed of the fact.

12. Student drive. Having had experience in student campaign work, we feel that it is practical to have student participation in this regard.

13. Above all, we favor a program of cooperation with the recorder's office whereby more satisfactory arrangements can be harmoniously worked out. This plan has already been formulated and will be explained.

This, then, is a portion of the program which we will inaugurate and carry out if elected. We solemnly promise that each and every point will be acted upon in a manner satisfactory to student and faculty alike.

We thank the students, again, and extend best wishes to our opponents.

Hurley Platform

Fellow students:

It is my aim and desire to effect a spirit of friendliness among all students. In the past there have existed petty differences which created animosity and ill feeling. With such a condition prevailing we can never hope to present a united front. In order to establish this school in the select circle of colleges and universities we must have concerted action which will follow as a result of harmony and concord among the students. There is no better way of bringing about such a desirable condition than by the promotion of intellectual, social, and athletic measures. Careful thought has been given to the situation at hand, and the following program has been designed especially to promote more unity and good will in campus affairs.

PLATFORM

1. By a vote of the student executive council the charge for student cards was increased from $1.00 to $2.50. I propose to use this additional revenue in the following student body activities:

(a) Tea dances—at least one a semester to be held in the campus refectory.
(b) Smokers—two during the year.
(c) Movies—once a month.

2. In connection with the 1939 world fair I propose to establish a student exhibit. I have consulted Dr. Campbell who is willing to construct a relief map of the college with the cooperation of the student body.

3. Student placement bureau to be established on campus for the employment of students during vacation periods and part time work.

(a) Dr. Loosley, head of the economics department and Professor Foran, instructor in economics are willing to encourage and cooperate with any such movement.

(b) Influential alumni and members of the Saint Mary's club will be sought after to further this movement.

4. From reliable sources it has been learned that the number of preferred tickets to the Santa Clara-Saint Mary's game will be decreased from the usual four to only two. To attack this reduction a committee will be formed immediately to plead the students' cause.

5. Direct broadcast of the Fordham-Saint Mary's game next fall.

(a) Petitions shall be circulated throughout the bay area for the purpose of obtaining a direct line broadcast. These petitions shall be forwarded to the NBC and CBS.

6. More efficient telephone service on the campus.

(a) At least one outgoing telephone in each dormitory.

(b) Phones placed where students can be reached directly.

(c) Arrangements for the receiving of calls which come in before and after the main switchboard is attended by an operator.

7. More student body meetings.

(a) At least one a month designed particularly for the social and intellectual entertainment of the utsdents.

(b) Influential and prominent men will be invited to address such meetings.

8. Full cooperation with the intramural sports manager to bring about a closer relationship between all the students.

(a) Games between winning teams from Saint Mary's shall be pitted against representative teams from local colleges and universities.

9. Establishment of a more extensive minor sports program. Continued support shall be given the following teams:

(a) Swimming, tennis, golf.

(b) Ice hockey, track, and a 150-lb. football team will be given encouragement in an effort to get them on our athletic program.

10. Student body maintenance of the newly constructed SM on the hillside behind the school buildings.

(a) A fresh coat of paint every year.

(b) A yearly trimming of the weeds and grass surrounding it.

I realize only too well that this program is ambitious in nature, but I have proposed nothing so remote that it can not be accomplished. In drawing up my platform, I have taken into consideration the many difficulties which will confront me in fulfilling them. However, if I did not feel myself competent, I would never have accepted the nomination. So it is in the spirit of confidence and sincerity that I propose such measures, and it is in the same spirit that I present my name and record for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted to the ASSMC April 2, 1938.

LEO ENGLERT.

Alameda Council Members Visit Local Knights

Father of Former Collegian Editor Among Guests

Visitors from Alameda council were guests of the campus council of the Knights of Columbus at the April social meeting held Wednesday night.

Edward Welch, father of Eli Welch, former COLLEGIAN editor, and Bill Zboyovski, past grand knight of Alameda, were among the visitors. An entertainment program was provided for the guests and refreshments were served at the end of the meeting.

Members Initiated

Eight members of the local council took the second and third degree initiations in San Francisco on Palm Sunday. Herschel Smyth was one of the principal speakers at the banquet that followed the initiation. In addition to Smyth, Harry Hooper, Bill Miller, Ed English, Homer Bean, George Barenheier, Bernard MacDonald, and George Fernandes were also initiated.

At the invitation of Father Ryan, chaplain of the San Francisco chapter of the Knights of Columbus, Vic Wilkiemeyer of the campus council addressed that body on Monday night and secured their cooperation in a radio campaign which the local group is planning.

PHOENIX HOPES BLASTED BY TROY

Gael Gossip

by Jim Brady, Collegian Sports Editor

Earl Sheely again comes to the front with a suggestion that is rapidly gaining favor among CIBA coaches.

It seems that the Earl would like to coach his team from the regulation coacher's box back of third base.

Chief objjection so far is that it would be taking the game away from the boys, which is rather silly because all of the coaches at present direct their teams from the dugout, and the only change would be moving their base of operations.

Many fans would pay good money to see a coaching duel between dignified Earl Sheely and dynamic Clint Evans. Color is what college baseball thrives on, and bringing out the rival coaches into plain view would certainly add that quality to the game.

Another Sophomore Triumph

Another milestone in the parade of sophomore activities is the victory of Bud Latuda in the boarder's pool tournament. The fact that he was later defeated by Dick Hester, the day student, in the finals, means nothing at all.

There is little to choose between the two, and it was evidently just Hester's day to win. Next year Latuda should be established as pre-tournament favorite, due to his convincing victory over the flashy Art Petri in the boarder's finals.

Items . . .

The freshmen students' baseball team won a lucky victory from the sophomores when the only bat broke in the fifth inning with the score 5-3. The Sophs will reverse the decision tomorrow.

Engle, USC catcher, plays a swell "bawl" game.

Ernie Johnson, Red Sox ivory hunter, was on the campus at the USC game. Also present were scouts from the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Browns.

Has Anybody Seen the Swimming Team?

What has happened to the swimming team?

Greeted enthusiastically by the students at the time of its beginning, there has been little or no news concerning it since the overwhelming defeat by the Athens club in the first and only meet.

It isn't like a Saint Mary's team to give up after one good licking. How can they expect to even come near beating a well-organized and experienced club when they had little or no practice and no organization.

The Gael swimmers are not inferior. There is fine material on the roster, material that should be heard from later in amateur aquatic circles.

The athletic department has promised full support to swimming, boxing, tennis, and golf—the new minor sports program. The tennis and golf teams have had regular matches, and the pugilists are holding a meet next Wednesday night.

The only weak sister of the four so far is swimming, and now that the campus plunge is open for regular practice periods, there can be no excuse for futrher inactivity.

Southland Notes

Contrary to recent reports, Bing Miller, star second baseman of the Phoenix, will return to school with the team and will finish out the year at Saint Mary's. There is also a possibility that next year he will again be a member of the student body.

Phil Isham, baseball manager who was struck behind the left ear by a foul line drive, is on the road to recovery and reports in a telegram to Lew Baysinger that in all probability he will travel north with the squad.

Intercollegiate Series

In the event that the Phoenix and California wind up the season in a tie, there is hope in many quarters that a series to determine the eventual winnr will be played.

The Oakland Post-Enquirer is anxious to sponsor such a series and the management of the Oakland ball club has volunteered the use of the ball park gratis.

Such a series would benefit collegiate baseball greatly, and would no doubt outdraw any Coast league games which would be played in this vicinity during those days.

It would also benefit coast baseball as a whole, stimulating interest in the diamond sport which, after all, is the American national game.

Carries Trojan Pennant Hopes

Petrushkin Hurls 6-5 Decision Over SM Sluggers

Webber Hits Homer in Vain Phoenix Rally; Greenlaw Hurls Today

By Bill Bettencourt

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Sam Barry's USC Trojans halted the winning streak of Earl Sheely's fighting Phoenix at the local Bovard field yesterday afternoon downing the Moragans 6 to 5.

Downhearted but still in a fighting mood, the Phoenix aim to win today's final contest from Troy and remain in the running for the title. If Stanford triumphs over California tomorrow and Saint Mary's wins today, the Phoenix will wind up in a tie for the crown with the Bears.

Sheely will start Cy Greenlaw on the hilltop today, while Barry is expected to use Jack Brewer on the mound.

The slender Phoenix flinger has thrown in four conference tiffs this season. He won the California premier, the first USC battle and Monday's slugfest with UCLA, but he dropped the third Bear tussle.

Kenny Butler opened yesterday's game with a terrific double, stole third, and came home on Marion Stolich's single to give his mates a quick 1 to 0 lead. The Trojans scored a trio of counters in their half of the first before Warren Jenkins relieved Bud Merrill on the mound.

Alex Petrushkin held the Phoenix runless during the second, third, and fourth innings. But in the fifth, after Jenkins had fanned, Butler lambasted a two-bagger and went to third on Bill Murphy's single. With Butler on third and Murphy on first, Larry Webber hammered a four-ply smack to right field to give the Phoenix a 4 to 3 advantage.

Once again Troy came back in their half of the fifth. Art Lilly singled, stole a couple of bases, and ran home on Petrushkin's single, tying the count.

Gene Sullivan opened the sixth with a one-bagger, went to second and third on a couple of muffs, and registered the fifth run on Bill Miller's fly to the outfield.

But once again the Trojans played follow the leader in the sixth. Jack Hanson singled, was sacrificed to second by Leo Evans. Roy Engle was hit by one of Jenkins deliveries. Captain Hal Sieling singled, loading the bags. Lilly then again came through with a single to drive in Troy's last two runs, the second of which was the margin of victory.

Butler hit 2 for 3 while Stolich and Sullivan each walloped 2 for 4. Petrushkin was touched for nine hits.

Boxing Meet Postponed Until Wednesday Night

Postponement of the boxing meet between Saint Mary's and combined CYO-Olympic club teams until April 27 was announced last week by Jack Williams, boxing manager.

A strike at the Olympic club in San Francisco was the reason given for postponing the bouts.

Both "Spider" Roach and Tom McLaughlin, coaches of the Olympic and CYO teams respectively, have promised to bring a group of fighters on next Wednesday night.

This match will be the last of this season, and proceeds will go to buy equipment for the pugilists next year. The ring is at present being repaired and will be in shape for the fights at Madigan gym.

Eddie Erdelatz, boxing mentor, plans to put the sport on a self-sustaining basis and return it to its former exalted position at this college, during the coming semester.

Admission to the bouts is twenty-five cents for all seats, and the student body is advised to come as early as possible as a good-sized crowd is expected from off the campus.

It has not been decided as yet which men will fight, but the following list should see action during the evening.

Heavyweights—George Cantwell, Mike Perrie, Coley Vaughn.

Light heavyweights—Howard Campbell, Jim Feeney, Joe McGrath, Pete Sedar.

Middleweights—Henry Nuetzel.

Welterweights—Bob Smith, Jack Williams.

Leightweights—Steve Stergar, George Dugnaz.

Phoenix Take Two From Santa Clara

Before a crowd of approximately 2,000, the Phoenix took a double-header from the Santa Clara nine, 16 to 3 and 10 to 2, at Seals' stadium in San Francisco.

Coach Earl Sheely used Bud Merrill in the first game and Warren Jenkins and Al Andrade in the nightcap.

Ken "Gabby" Butler, former Sacramento junior college player, provided the big thrill for the fans in the initial contest when he hit a home run over the left field wall, scoring two runs ahead of him.

Varsity Baseball Manager Injured In Southland

Struck on the head by a batted ball in the first game against UCLA last Monday down south, Phil Isham, varsity baseball manager, lies in a serious condition in a Los Angeles hospital.

The accident occurred in the first inning of the game, when Cy Greenlaw, Phoenix pitcher, threw a fast ball and a left-handed batter for UCLA swung hard, but late, at the pitch. The ball was fouled down the third base line into the unprotected Gael dugout.

Isham was keeping score at that instant and had his head bowed. The ball crashed against his skull, high on the side of his head, but at the time apparently did no more damage other than stunning him.

However, severe headaches followed later in the evening and he was rushed tot the hospital. Internal bleeding led doctors to believe he had a concussion of the brain.

The meagre reports from the south did not state whether his condition had changed.

BULLETIN—Phil Isham, feared seriously injured when struck by a batted ball, is reported convalescing, and will probably return with the baseball team.

Varsity Edges Out Pasadena Team, 6-5

A single in the ninth inning by Ray Desimone scoring Gene Sullivan defeated the Pasadena junior college 6 to 5.

Joe Pinter, a former San Francisco baseballer, hurled for the JC and lost his first game in seven starts to the Phoenix pitcher, Emmett O'Neill. Both men allowed eight hits.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Saint Mary's	6	8	0
Pasadena	5	8	1

SHADOWING the GAELS

By Tom Feeney, Ass't. Sports Ed.

Seven game conference win streak! The Phoenix have fulfilled early season predictions, however, their late start might be too much to overcome. The USC crucial matches hold the fate of the Gael ascent—whether or not their climb came too late to annex the championship.

One of this year's achievements has been that the Phoenix have not lost a game on their home diamond. A creditable record!

Earl's Questionable Pick

Whatever the Earl of Moraga, Coach Sheely, does is okeh by us, however we differ with him on his selection of catcher for his all-conference team.

He chose Tony Lombardi, Bear receiver, whose only fame rests on a home run he hit in a crucial game. However, he doesn't rate with our Al Lingua!

Consistently a strong hitter and smart catcher as his record upholds, Lingua has put the drive in the recent Gael climb.

Hustling every minute of play is his best asset and it is through this that he has pepped the Phoenix into a chance for the title.

If anyone has the good ole college try spirit, it's he! Foul and pop flies out-of-reach of other catchers are easy prey for his mitt.

Has he speed?—well, we believe his speed is wasted behind the plate. However, on infield grounders he often beats the batter to first base, and many times he has fooled outfielders by stretching singles into doubles.

He has speed, stamina, hitting and catching strength, but above all is the hustle in our ball club. Even though only a sophomore, no all-conference team would be complete without him!

Slip at last has found his triple threat left halfback, but instead of one he has two.

The current Spring practice has been enlivened by the race for this spot between Mike Klotovich, San Francisco's product and Ed Heffernan from Bakersfield high, both freshmen.

Instead of the position being cinched by the former, it has been a nip and tuck affair each day. Both run well, Klotovich kicks better, but Hejernan is acclaimed the better passer.

Heffernan broke his leg last summer in a softball game, and so couldn't play frosh football. However, his showing in practice has been really startling.

There would be lots of action if each were on different sides for the forthcoming Red vs. Blue game on May 1st.

Greet the Baseball Team!

Oh where, oh where is Laberge and his Rally Committee?

How about mobilizing the students and greet the baseball team on their arrival home?

Surely their record merits a boost and the best team in the conference should receive some reward.

Get some sort of organization for their arrival and the students will cooperate!

Win or lose, they've exemplified true Saint Mary's spirit and ability on the diamond.

Sports Chaff

A MARY-GOLD to Ken Butler for his smashing homer to win the final UCLA game. It took him more than half the season to crash the line-up, but his move seems to be fruitful.

Another Mary-Gold to Ernie Smith and his sports broadcast. Eager ears received his results of the Phoenix games in the Southland.

Slow ball pitchers don't agree with Marion "Gabby" Stolich's batting average. Over the past week-end he hit .000 in 13 times at bat!

Questions we would like answered:

Why isn't the swimming team working out in the recently-filled pool?

What has happened to the yearly inter-class track and field meet?

Initiation Rebels Become S. M. Members

Two Hilarious Days Provided By Costumed Char acters

By Bill Spehar

Bowing to tradition, eighteen revolting neophytes were initiated into the Block SM society on April 11 and 12.

Although they had revolted against the initiation the previous week, they finally arbitrated with the society and underwent the humiliation for two days. This was one day less than previous initiations.

Dressed as various characters—some of which appeared human, while others were doubtful—the neophytes provided two full days of fun for their fellow students.

Shock One of Best

Frank Shock, halfback, garbed as a radical soap-box orator, preached the slogan of his party, "We want to reorganize the reorganization bill," to anyone who would listen. Campus comments showed that he was one of the best performers.

In the dress of a ballet dancer, Mike Perrie, quarterback, gave evidence that with a little practice he might bid fair to become one of the greatest of ballet dancers. His dance, which he called "The Dance of Spring," bore the mark of real genius.

Since the initiation, rumors have been rife that various tobacco companies have tried to sign Tom Feeney, basketballer, to perform on their program. Clothed in a burlap sack which was decorated with tobacco cans and labels, he performed the "tobacco auctioneer's chant" with rare speed and artistry.

Greenlaw Sings Sad Song

With a guitar in his hands and a song on his lips, "Shy Cy" Greenlaw, attired as one of the mountain boys, had listeners in tears with his sad ballad of the range, "Old Faithful."

Romolo Brusati, feathers and all, fluttered about the campus dressed as a stork. A large sign on his back proclaimed that he "had done the Dionne job, the Cantor job, and the Crosby job." This proved his merit.

Students were given a glimpse of Island life when "Bud" Merrill, and "Scotty" MacPhail paraded about garbed as a Hawaiian native and hula-hula dancer respectively. Merrill's guitar playing and MacPhail's dancing were tops.

Cupid Is Seen on Campus

With a bow and arrow ever ready for duty, Herb Smith, fullback, tripped about the campus as Dan Cupid. He shot his arrows where they would do the most good, and in the best Cupid manner sang, "When Day is Done."

"Bicycle Bill" Thomas arrayed as a jockey showed students how to bring in a winner. Most noticeable about his outfit were the horseshoe marks implanted on the rear of his pants.

Carrying an old pick and shovel, Jack Crampton, end, stalked across the campus garbed as "I Plantem," undertaker. The feature part of his performance was the rendition of "I'll Be Glad When You're Dead" which seemed to come from the heart.

Miller as Lifeguard

Demonstrating how a lifeguard rescues victims, Don Miller, footballer, gave valuable lessons even though he was handicapped by the lack of water.

Dressed as "Little Napoleon of the Hardwood" Julian Lyons, basketballer, set up plays in the best Dykes style. The dining room seemed to be a very good court for him.

With milk bottles in their mouths, Lavine Bettencourt, end, and Nick Katzmeyer, tackle, crawled about, clothed in diapers and with ribbons tied to their hair to show that they were baby twins. Their singing of "Baa, Baa, Black Sheep" made a hit with everyone.

Stolich Shouts

"Hustle it up!" was a cry which was heard frequently as Marion Stolich, left-fielder, paraded as a young kid ball-player. Many could not believe their ears when they heard the "Gabby one" shouting.

Dressed as one of the Seven Dwarfs, Bill Murphy, rightfielder, roamed the campus searching for Snow White. It was doubtful whether he found her or not.

In the best "Harpo Marx" manner, Ralph Jack, footballer, glided about, performing all the foolish stunts which were in keeping with that famous character. Not once did he open his mouth.

"Saturday's Hero" was Jerry Dowd, who gave an exhibition of his ability which made Slip Madigan overjoyed. But his rendition of "Betty Co-ed" was not such a success.

The initiation ended with the neophytes being introduced into the secret ritual of the society on the night of April 12.

Slugging Southland Star Succeeds 'Silent' Stolich

Al Lingua, fiery Phoenix backstop, found his batting eye in his native southland and climbed up to the top of the Saint Mary's batters.

In a temporary slump, Gabby Stolich dropped from the .400 class to take second place behind Lingua.

Soph Stylist Wins Cue Crown

Latuda Annexes Boarder's Title in Close Encounter

Displaying a skillful and accurate game, Bud Latuda, sophomore from Colorado, last week won the boarders' pool title.

In a nip and tuck match with Jack Petri, Latuda's cool shooting won him the right to play Dick Hester, winner of the day student crown. Hester is last year's champion and is favored to win from the Colorado stylist in the playoff.

From the start of the contest, it was evident that Latuda was putting everything he had into the game in order to win out for the sophomore class. Petri tried in vain to stem the tide of accurate placements, but was clearly outplayed.

The victory marked the third sophomore victory in the four intramural tournaments that have been played so far.

Greenlaw's Arm Under Observation

Cy Greenlaw, Phoenix ace fork-hander took two medical treatments this week from a prominent Southern California physician, in order to loosen his cramped muscles. It is expected, however, that he'll be in pitching shape for today's game.

Sophomore Stars as Phoenix Sweep Series With Bruin Varsity

Los Angeles, April 22.—Kenny Butler, young Phoenix sophomore in the right field garden, batted only four for five Tuesday...which is something awful.

But that one hit was good for the circuit in the last inning when the score was tied and two Moragans already had popped out. Which was mighty good—for Saint Mary's.

Butler's sensational four-ply smack over the left field wall at Sawtelle field in the beautiful Westwood Village of Los Angeles gave the visiting Moragans a hard-fought 4-to-3 triumph over the Bruins.

The day previous Marty Krug's Bruin machine was smashed, 20 to 9, and earlier in the season the Gaels pounded out an 11-to-10 win over the Los Angeles team at Moraga, thus sweeping the annual series with the genial Westwood baseballers.

Kept SM in Running

The twin triumphs kept the Phoenix in the running for the conference title and assured them of nothing worse than a first-place tie with Clint Evans' UC Bears if the Bears win tomorrow from Stanford and IF the Phoenix scored a pair of wins over USC yesterday and today.

Striking out seven UCLA batsmen and walking only three, Cy Greenlaw had no trouble in Monday's opener. Eight runs in the first inning, three in the third, six in the fifth, two in the sixth, and one in the seventh should add up to 20.

In that hilarious first frame, Butler opened with a double, Jim Robertson singled, Larry Webber walked, and Marion Stolich was fanned with the bags loaded. Gene Sullivan came back with a triple to clean the bags. Gene Sinnott played follow-the-leader with a two-bagger, as did "Bing" Miller.

Butler Doubles Again

A pass was issued to Al Lingua and Greenlaf reached first safely on Ken Washington's miscue. Butler followed with another double while Murphy reached first on another muff by Washington. Butler's second double brought in Greenlaw and the eighth run.

Butler hit two for two, being walked four times the rest of the game. Lingua poled a homer in the fifth with the bags loaded. The local boy lambasted two for three. Sullivan tripled and singled twice in six trips. Miller tripled, doubled, and singled twice in four tries.

The Phoenix tabulated 16 hits, and the Westwooders followed with 14. Big Bob Whitlow ascended to the mound in the second inning, relieving George Carter, who was credited with his first loss in five games. The star Bruin twirler and swatsman had pitched his team yreviously to four conference victories. The game lasted two and a half hours.

Second Game Tough

Tuesday's tussle was just that—a tussle. It was no picnic for Saint Mary's. And lucky the Phoenix excepted a tough one and no breather. In pregame gossip sessions in their Biltmore rooms (plug), the Phoenix to a man claided that the UCLA batsmen were the best in the league.

Sophomore Emmett O'Neill, whom we put to bed at 9:30 Monday night (you're welcome!), and who failed to rise up from bed until 10 a.m. Tuesday, pitched the best game of his collegiate career.

Listen to this: Twice with the bags loaded the Phoenix sophomore struck out the Bruin willow swinger, retiring the side. O'Neill has what it takes and will be a piece of dynamite next season with Greenlaw and Earl Johnson (oh, mamma!).

O'Neill Wins Two

Earlier in the year O'Neill downed Santa Clara, 10 to 2, and lost that ninth inning heart breaker to Stanford, 6 to 5.

The Bruins managed to bang out seven hits, this lad Carter getting four for five. Washington, Dale and Wolin, and Keith Emberson each hit once.

Captain Tony Boehle, who caught O'Neill's shoots brilliantly, and batted just as well, hit one for three, but his smack to Washington in the sixth brought Miller home with Saint Mary's third run. In the fourth Boehle's one bagger sent home Sinnott and Miller with the Phoenix's first two runs.

The Bruins scored once in the second, once in the third, and once in the seventh. Saint Mary's registered two in the fourth, one in the sixth, and one in the ninth.

Golfers Play Post-Season Match

Meet Broncos to Play Off Third Place Tie in Conference Chase

Tied for third place in the Northern California intercollegiate golf league with the Broncos of Santa Clara, the Saint Mary's golf team has made tentative arrangements to play the Broncos Monday at the Tilden green in Oakland.

The regular season for both teams is ended, but this match will be played in order to determine the third and fourth positions of the league. The loser will be the sole occupant of the cellar position of the league.

Santa Clara earned the tie with the Gaels by defeating them in a match played at Tilden two weeks ago. The score, 5½ to 3½ was identical with the score when the Gael golfers previously defeated the Broncos in their first match of the season.

Eddie Burns and Glenn Todd, playing superb golf were able to capture all three of their points, while Charles Reilly and Bill Dooms made the ½ point.

Although Bob Blair and Con Catterlin lost all of their points, they played an excellent game.

Blair and Catterlin, only Frosh on the team, with the experience they have gained by playing this year, should prove themselves a valuable asset to the Gaels next year.

Contest Will Shed Light on Next Year's Galloping Gaels

Will the Galloping Gaels make a comeback on the gridiron this coming fall? Or will they have another disappointing season? Will Klotovich provide the spark they need?

These questions, which are bothering interested observers and fans, will be partially answered when the Red and Blue intra-squad teams clash in their annual contest on May 1. This game officially closes spring practice for the gridders.

No Definite Teams Picked

No definite teams have been picked by Edward "Slip" Madigan, head coach, but it is thought that he will follow his usual procedure of putting the first string backfield with the second string line.

Last year Norman "Red" Strader, assistant coach, and Eddie Erdelatz, second assistant, coached the Reds and Blues respectively. They will probably do the same again.

Cynosure of all eyes will be Mike Klotovich, former Mission high flash from San Francisco, who has everything a left halfback must have to fit into the Notre Dame system of play. He is a real triple-threat back, being an accurate passer, tricky runner, and long distance punter. As a freshman last fall he led the team in scoring, and was acclaimed as a future "All-American."

Offering him competition will be Ed Heffernan, freshman from Bakersfield who was unable to play last season because of a leg injury. Heffernan has been the sensation of spring practice, and is another triple-threat back.

Quarterback Is Doubtful

Quarterback is a doubtful spot where Mike Perrie, sub quarter last year, seems to have the inside track. But Jack Guthrie, transfer from USC, and Mike Mazaika, from the Frosh, are giving him a tussle.

At right half Howard "Beans" Campbell, who did not see much action last year, seems to be rating the highest. Harry Aronson, two-year letterman, Dante Magnani, another veteran, Jack Sims, Bill Williams, and Ken Sanders are right on his heels.

Herb Smith, alternate fullback last season will be back in his favorite spot. Jim Matthews, who was on the bench last fall, Andy Marefos, Joe McEntorffer, and "Red" Dunn, from the frosh, are making a fight for it.

Back at the ends will be the sophomore veterans, Lavine Bettencourt, Romolo Brusati, and Jack Crampton, who are waging a terrific battle for the posts. Jake Consiglieri, and Coley Vaughn are giving them a tough time.

At the tackle slots will probably be Nick Katzmeyer, letterman, and George Cantwell, veteran. Right on their heels come Marius Peterson, a sub last year, Dick Jones and "Rip" Maloney, transfers, Roy Newby, Gordon Simon and Gene Bonsignore, freshmen.

Ralph Jack, junior letterman, is the only veteran guard. Dick Mesak, freshman, seems to have the other guard position cinched, although Tony Lucas and Pete Sedar, who saw very little action last fall, Joe McGrath, Vic Martinelli, and Bert Hohl are pressing them for the jobs.

Dowd at Center Spot

With Jerry Dowd, veteran, back at the center spot, it seems to be well taken care of. Milo Millicivich, who was second string last year, Walt Wilkman, and Bill Palm, freshman, are capable of extending him.

There are others who will probably see action before the contest is finished, and this game will give fans a glimpse of the Galloping Gaels who will wear the Red and Blue on the gridiron next fall. It will also afford them a chance to see how certain inexperienced men behave under fire.

Last year the Blues, coached by Erdelatz, triumphed 6 to 0.

Phoenix Chance at CIBA Title Lost

Can Still Tie for Lead If California Loses Final Contest

Yesterday's defeat to the Trojans probably has dropped the Gaels from any chance at the title. However, should they defeat USC today and Stanford pulls the unexpected against California Saturday, the Phoenix will be tied with the Bears for the lead.

This is looking at the situation in the the highest degree of optimism, though. USC cannot be considered out of the race, either, for if they win today and defeat UCLA thrice, they will be tied with the Bears for top honors.

Whatever is the result of today's game, California still holds the key spot with only Stanford to dispose of. They are practically certain of the pennant again. However, one can never predict accurately in this sport. The unexpected might just as well happen as the expected!

Conference standings to date are:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
California	11	3	.7857
USC	8	3	.7272
Saint Mary's	10	4	.7142
UCLA	5	7	.4166
Stanford	4	10	.2857
Santa Clara	1	14	.0666

Contests remaining on the CIBA schedule for the season follow:

Today—Saint Mary's vs. USC at Los Angeles.

Sat. April 23—California vs. Stanford at Palo Alto.

Sat. April 23—USC vs. UCLA at Los Angeles.

Wed. April 27—USC vs. UCLA at Los Angeles.

Sat. April 30—USC vs. UCLA at Los Angeles.

Gael Sluggers Shell Out Victory Over Southerners

Bing Miller's pinch single in the ninth inning drove in the tying and winning run as the Phoenix team whipped UCLA, 11 to 10.

Al Andrade was given credit for the victory, pitching one inning. Emmett O'Neill started the game and hurled four innings, with Warren Jenkins relieving him on the mound, and he pitched four innings.

Milt Cohen started on the hill for the Bruins and held the Phoenix batters in tack for eight innings. In the ninth with the southern baseballers leading 10-7, Coach Marty Krug substituted Dale Wolin, and the Gaels shelled him for four runs.

Al Lingua's home run and a triple by Gene Sullivan were the high lights of the game.

Score:	Rj	H.	E.
Saint's Mary's	11	15	2
UCLA	10	10	3

Batteries:—O'Neill, Jenkins, Andrade and Lingua; Cohen, Wolin and Ewing.

Soph Diamondeers Play for Class Title Tomorrow

Katzmeyer, Heffernan to Take Mound in Championship Clash

With a mythical championship at stake, Katzmeyer's Klouters, representatives of the much-maligned Sophomore class, will meet the Simon Sluggers, frosh hopefuls, in a so-called baseball game tomorrow morning at nine o'clock on the Phoenix diamond.

These two teams played a practice game two weeks ago, but the outcome was never determined because the only bat met with disaster at the hands of a would-be slugger. However, since that fateful day the supply of balls and bats has been well replenished, for the members of both teams have faithfully attended Earl Sheeley's varsity practices.

Bolstersd by the return to form of their captain and star chucker, Nick Katzmeyer, the soph diamondeers are confident of gaining a victory. If Katzmeyer is unable to stem the tide of baschits, Jack Sims will ascend the mound to take over the hurling duties. A future varsity performer, Eddie Burns, will cavort at the short-patch and lend his powerful bat to the lineup.

Freshman Captain Gordon Simon says that he has two former prep hurlers ready to throw at his opponents. Jack Hatchett, erstwhile halfback, and Ed Hefferman, scourge of the softball league, are the pitchers. It is expected that Simon and Jack Guthrie will cover most of the outfield.

The result of this game should certainly demonstrate the superiority of one of the classes, and it might well decide the issue that was supposed to have been settled by the oft-discussed postponed brawl.

Frosh Pitcher Fans Nineteen to Win

The Gaelets nine copped their annual series with the Santa Clara frosh by defeating them in the ninth inning, 2 to 1.

Earl Johnson, frosh pitcher, struck out nineteen men, the Colts getting their lone run in the second inning, when Johnson walked two men, and allowed one of the few scattered hits of the afternoon.

Going to work in the seventh inning, the Gaelets tied the score. Johnson singled to left field to score Bodisilich who had walked and taken second on an error.

Fernandez, fleet leftfielder, scored the winning run for Saint Mary's in the ninth, drawing a walk, reaching third base by errors, and coming home on Trand's single through shortstop.

Sanders Retains Batting Lead

Although Ken Sanders, frosh fielder, dropped 130 points since last week, he still holds the batting lead with 23 hits in 42 trips to the plate for an average of .547.

Closely following Sanders is the fast climbing Gilbeau, with an average of .473, gaining 116 points in the last three frosh games.

The fact that four men are hitting above the .400 mark attests to the heavy slugging of the freshman aggregation.

Woman Secretary Succeeds Henning

Slip Madigan, breaking a 17-year tradition of the athletic office, today hired a woman secretary to succeed John Henning, who graduates this May.

She is Miss Myrta Wohlwend of Oakland, who will assume the secretarial duties immediately.

Henning succeeded Edward McSweeney and was a graduate of Saint Ignatius high school in San Francisco. McSweeney at present is employed by the Saint Mary's realty office in San Francisco.

Condition of Track Causes Cancellation Of Campus Meet

Because of the fact that the recent adverse weather on the Moraga campus has left the track in a deplorable condition, there will be no track meet this year.

The college authorities do not feel that it would be advisable to attempt to repair the cinder path at this season of the year. However, it is hoped that next year the organizing of a track team will be started early in the spring.

The athletes were sorely disappointed when they heard of the suspending of the track team for the year. Among those who voiced their opinion on the topic were track manager George Carter who said, "Let us hope that next year we will start about the first of March." Bob Johnson, 440 man, said, "It is a sad state of affairs to be in training for such a long time and then to have the meet called off."

GAELS SCHEDULE TWIN BILL

A double-header with the Cork and Saint James clubs from San Francisco is scheduled for the Gaelic footballers this Sunday afternoon on Agnon field.

Captain Ted Smyth stated that next Sunday will wind up the team's season. Both the city clubs were anxious for a return game, thus necessitating a double header, as the field will not be available after this date.

A good reserve strength will be needed for Sunday's games, however, the squad has been increasing steadily with enthusiastic members, and there will be many able substitutes on hand.

The first game will start at 1:30 p. m. with Saint James.

Varsity Trounces Trojan Team

Nose Out Southerners in Sensational Sixth Inning Rally

Staging a sensational story book finish, the Phoenix nosed out USC by a score of 6 to 4 April 11. It was the fourth conference win in three days for the varsity.

To open the first inning, USC put two men on base and with only one out, Larry Webber, shortstop, made an error, letting two men come home. Getting a few more singles, the Trojans ran up the score to four before they were retired.

In their half of the inning the Phoenix came back to score two runs off Jack Brewer, sophomore ace, when Gene Sullivan hit a single with three men on base.

Trojans Blanked for 8 Frames

For the next eight innings Greenlaw blanked the Trojans and was only in serious trouble in the fifth when they filled the bases with no one out. A pop up, a strike out, and a ground out ended the inning without any serious damage being done.

In the sixth frame the Phoenix fell on Brewer for four runs which gave them the lead. To open the inning Murphy singled, Webber and Stolich got free passes, and Sullivan again singled to bring home two runs. Glenn Sinnott then lined a double into right field to drive in two more runs. This ended the scoring for the day.

Standouts for the Phoenix were Sullivan with three hits, Sinnott with two, and "Bing" Miller with his classy fielding. For the Trojans Hal Sieling, shortstop, and Roy Engle, catcher, were the bright lights.

Gael Tennis Team Plays Santa Clara There Monday

Saint Mary's Squad Winds Up Season With Bronc Game

Nearing the end of the tennis season, the Saint Mary's netmen have but two more matches to be played: Santa Clara and the University of San Francisco.

Monday the Gael netmen will travel to Santa Clara, to meet the Broncos in their second match. Previously the Broncos defeated the Gaels by a score of 6 to 3.

Thursday the Gaels will play hosts to the University of San Francisco, which will be the last match of the season for the Gaels. The Dons defeated the Gaels by the score of 9-0 in their last match which was played on the Palace of Fine Arts Courts in San Francisco.

The closest match of the season resulted when the Gael netmen traveled to San Francisco, two weeks ago, to meet the strong San Francisco State team, which finally captured the match by the score of 5 to 4.

George McPeake, regular member of the team, was unable to be present and his loss was felt by the Saint Mary's team.

Following are the results of the matches; Crary (SF) def. Webber (SM) 6-4, 6-4; Kavaugh (SF) def. Namanny (SM) 6-0, 6-1. Arlington (SF) def. Hooper (SM) 7-5, 6-2; Taira (SM) def. Nasser (SF) 5-7.

Davie (SM) def Sanz (SF).

Doubles—Kavaugh and Crary (SF) def Weber and Hooper (SM) 3-6, 6-4, 7-5; Taira and Davie (SM) def. Arlington and Kim (SF) 6-3, 6-4; Murphy and Namanny (SM) def. Sanz and Nasser (SF) 7-5, 6-4.

Cathedral High Wins First Annual Debate Congress

Saint Ignatius High Awarded Second Place Trophy

"The bicameral system of legislature is detrimental to the best interests of the people...It does not permit efficiency because of its faulty construction, and should therefore be replaced by the unicameral system."

That affirmative argument on the question "Resolved: That the unicameral system of legisuature should be adopted by the several states," helped debaters from Cathedral high school of Los Angeles win the first annual prep debate congress, held on the campus April 12. The Brother Erminold trophy went to this team.

Losing to the Cathedral team of Jack Wecker and Horway Witteman was the team from Saint Ignatius high school, San Francisco, who took second place and the Brother Agnon trophy. Edward Bossnecke and Robert McCarthy comprised this team.

Champion Girl Debaters

Teams from Saint Brigid's high school, San Francisco, were proclaimed champion girl debaters of California, having won the third and fourth prize APGU and department of forensics trophies respectively. Joan Ambruster and Joyce Wallace made up one team, while Maureen Mathew and Jean Miller compriesd the other. A contest will be held at Saint Brigid's school to determine which of these teams is to be awarded the third place trophy.

Point Rating Used

The high school debaters were judged by a point rating with a maximum of 40 points for subject matter and 20 points each for construction, delivery, and rebuttal. Finals were judged by Brother Legoria Edward, Brother Cyprian, and Mr. Thomas Twomey.

The day's program opened with an assembly in the lounge, when Brother Albert, president of the college delivered a welcoming address. William Simon, debate coach, followed with a short talk in which he announced that Saint Mary's College will be made the debate headquarters for Catholic high schools in California. John Williams, chairman of the tourney, presided at the assembly.

Brother Leo spoke to the debaters late in the afternoon on the components of debating, emphasizing manner and voice. The famed orator urged care and protection of the voice with temperance in its use.

To insure good speaking, Brother Brother Leo stated, one must read the best speeches, hear the best speakers, and exercise one's style. "Become your own best critic," he advised.

The four trophies were awarded by Mr. Simon after Brother Leo's address was concluded.

Publicity Problems To Be Reviewed By Relations Men

Publicity problems of Pacific coast colleges will be discussed at a regional conference of the Stanford School-Press Relations Investigation at the Plaza hotel, San Francisco, tomorrow night.

Tom Foudy and Havelock Hunter, Saint Mary's press bureau managers, will represent the College at the dinner meet.

Paul C. Edwards, associate editor of the San Francisco News and special lecturer of the Saint Mary's department of journalism, is chairman.

'Ecce Homo' Called Best Ever

250 Witness Staging of Play Written by Brother Leo

In what was proclaimed the best performance ever staged on the campus by the student players, "Ecce Homo," a passion play in four acts written by Brother Leo, was witnessed by 250 people last week.

The affair was entirely a home-made production, the stage and some of the costumes having been made by students.

Plans for staging the play off the campus have been cancelled because of lack of time, Joseph McCarthy, general manager of the production, announced.

Characters included Henry Nuetzel as Pilate; William Kirkham as Prodicus, Peter Cassady, Salathiel; Frank Soares as James; Donald Miller as Longinus; Herbert Smith, Esdras; Joseph McCarthy, David; Frank Sanders, Dormus, and James Butler, a slave.

The staff included Mr. William G. Simon, director; McCarthy, general manager; Coleman Kezeli, stage manager; Peter LoBianco, art director; John Williams, light director; Charles Nanfito and Robert Fleitz, property; James Moore and Joseph Crosby, ticket committee; William Dooms, costumes.

Acknowledgments were made to Brother Albert, president of the college, Father Ribeyron, who directed the Student Brothers in their singing; Brother Alfred, who furnished the organ music; Brother Cornelius, art advice; and Holy Names Central high school for some of the costumes.

A small profit was realized from the affair.

Old Scrap Book Donated To College

The scrapbook of the late Frank J. Kierce, a graduate of this institution was turned over to Saint Mary's College recently by Dennis J. Lucey, acting Grand Secretary of the YMI in San Francisco.

Mr. Kierce was a prominent attorney in San Francisco and one of the early grand presidents of the YMI.

The book is dated May 1, 1878, but articles of earlier dates are contained in it. One of the earliest articles, is the graduation of the class of 1880, held at the Grand Opera House in San Francisco, with Archbishop Alemony presided at the graduation ceremonies.

One of the features of this scrapbook was that it contained a complete series of pictures of every graduate for the first 20 years. They are pencil sketches and have been turned over to Brother Vantasian.

Also in the collection is a record of the first meeting of the alumni of the Alumni Association. B. P. Oliver, of the class of "73," was elected the first president of the association. Among those in attendance were: Father John E. Cottle of the class of '79, the Reverend Father E. J. Doran of the class of "79," who donated the altar that is now in the chapel; Garrett McEnerney; Frank J. Kierce; Judge Frank J. Murasky; Judge T. J. Lennon; and the Reverend Father J. A. McAuliffe.

Another interesting article in the collection was relating of how Saint Mary's College had a special day at the famous Mid-winter Fair, held at the Golden Gate Park in San Francisco in 1895. Archbishop P. W. Riordan presided at the graduation ceremonies on that day.

One of Reverend Brother Erminald's famous lectures was listed It stated: "The lecture or the substance thereof, delivered before Phil Sheridan Council of the YMI on January 21, 1900." A first place trophy in the local Catholic high school debate tournament is named after this Brother.

Comment & Opinion

STUDENTS coming to Saint Mary's on scholarships in recent years too frequently have been little more than book worms. The new policy recently announced by the administration whereby scholarship winners will be expected to participate actively in extra-curricular affairs will do much to clear up the difficulties encountered in attempting to conduct a widespread activity program. It is not a small enrollment which hampers debating, dramatics and other activities, but a refusal on the part of certain capable students to participate in these worthwhile undertakings.

ALUMNI members of the Saint Mary's Club and other friends of the college are to be commended for the manner in which they have cooperated in the staging of every event of the Diamond anniversary celebration. They have given freely of their time, labor and money, and to them should go a large portion of the credit for the success of the Diamond Jubilee Year.

THE fact that the Block SM on Mount Van is still intact after the heavy rains of the winter testifies to the excellence of the workmanship done by those who installed the brick letters, but the shabby appearance of the SM, which is badly in need of a coat of paint, is also an indictment of those who gave birth to the idea of installing the initials and then failed to provide for their maintenance.

THE Brickpile will make its final appearance of the semester next week. Stringent economy measures have made it possible for the student publication to continue up to date. Student support of the final issue of the semester will justify the continuation of the Brickpile next semester. Unless this support is forthcoming there is little doubt that the magazine will join the long list of worthwhile ventures that have failed here because of a lack of student interest.

Well Filled Treasury Will Help to Solve Activity Problem

ACTION of the executive council in raising the student body membership fee from $1.00 to $2.50 assures next year's student administration of an adequate working fund. The incoming ASSMC officials will not be faced with the financial worries that have harrassed other student regimes of recent years.

Under the new set-up it will be possible to allocate sufficient support to minor sports, debating, dramatics and other student activities. The council not only raised the fee to a point that insures the financial integrity of the student body for the 1938-39 year, but it also appointed a budget committee to allot funds to each activity, the allotments to be based on past requirements.

With a well filled treasury it is not improbable that student body members will be admitted free to such events as the California and Santa Clara rally-dances. The ASSMC will be in a position to sponsor more events similar to the successful Dominican College Supper Dance.

Next year's student body officers are in a position to compile the best record of any administration. The action of the executive council gives them a flying start in that direction.

Successful Debate Congress Sponsored By Honor Society

To the Alpha Pi Gamma Upsilon goes the credit for sponsoring a most successful high school debate congress. Precise, smooth organization was the keynote of the affair.

However, it was not the sponsoring organization which was primarily responsible for the success of the debate tourney, but rather one man outside the group and two within.

To hold an annual, statewide high school debate congress was the idea of William Simon, director of debating. The guiding hand, the steadying influence behind the forensic meet was Mr. Simon's. More than any other individual Mr. Simon was responsible for the smashing success of the first meet of its kind ever held on this campus.

Also instrumental in the successful conduct of the event was the work of John Williams, vice-president of the APGU, and Herschel Smyth, debate manager. Planning and executing the many details of the day was the task alloted to them. That the day's schedule was adhered to strictly is evidence that their work was well done.

There is no doubt that the debate congress will become an annual fixture at Saint Mary's. Those who handle the event in future years have been supplied with an excellent model.

Moraga Musings

The Muser extends his congratulations to Wyman Riley for employing the Easter recess to better advantage than most campusites. A trip to Napa, famed as the home of Ray Cleone, resulted in Riley being hired by the Napa Register, a daily evening paper.

The Muser predicts that Napa, already quite a lively town, will liven up still more when Wyman and Cornelio Baca '37, also employed by the Register, go into action as a team.

One of the Muser's best sources of information will no longer give out choice morsels. It seems that he was the only one who could have told of two events brought to the attention of the Muser. Enough said!

Did You Know That . . .

Whitey Dunn now feels capable of writing a book on "How I Refused to Take Her to the Senior Ball."

Several of the seniors held a dress rehearsal for the senior picnic. And that a good time was had by all.

John Mylot and Ted Smythe took in the Dominican formal last Monday evening. And that every time a certain member of the Ulster Ladies' Drill Team writes, both Ted Smythe and "Diamond" Jim Brady receive letters.

The ex-"Belle of Saint Mary's," Beverly Weston, remembers Ed Tracy, Bill Bettencourt and Tom Foudy.

All four candidates for the student body presidency are members of the local Irish society.

Maybe Some Day There Will Be . . .

Agreement between the right time and school time. Or if not that, perhaps it can be arranged so that school time will be consistently wrong.

An explanation why Pete Cassady, a lad who resides in the deep South, is making those frequent trips to Sacramento. Those who know say that Pete has that certain light in his eyes.

Outlooks and Insights

ED RYAN, a recent graduate of Saint Mary's, edits the Twenty-Thirtian, a national magazine sponsored by the Association of 20-30 Clubs. In the April issue the editor discloses the kind of long-range thinking likely to be achieved only through ripe cultural education:

Men and Brethren

"Man has always realized that this would be a great old world indeed if all men were friends and no men were enemies. He realized this truth because there was a time when universal friendship was in effect. But as time wore on and mankind multiplied, doubts and misgivings arose, giving birth to races, creeds and nationalities, with all their attendant disagreement and bitter hate.

"In Europe, at one time, the fact that a man was a Spaniard or a German made less difference than the distinction drawn today when it is said that an American is a New Yorker or a Californian. It is saddening to note that in this, the Twentieth Century, the statement that a man is a German or a Spaniard is, in certain circles of the earth, completely damning evidence of atrocious barbarism. It is apparent that mankind is wandering further and further from international friendship and understanding, and from universal peace.

Things To Ponder

AUTHOR of a series of little green books published by Dodd, Mead and Company—"Books and Culture," "Short Studies in Literature," "Essays in Literary Interpretation," "Under the Trees and Elsewhere"—the late Hamilton Wright Mabie, for better or for worse, was dedicated to the genteel tradition in literature and in life. Some things he wrote are, as we say, now definitely "dated"; yet at their best his essays are a prophylactic against modern tendencies—in life as in literature—which contemn gentility and blindly and blandly ignore tradition. Things like these are potent utterances still:

"A pedant is formed by his memory; a man of culture is formed by the habit of meditation, and by constant use of the imagination."

"Culture rests on ideas rather than on knowledge; its distinctive use of knowledge is to gain material for ideas."

"Culture is never quantity, it is always quality of knowledge; it is never an extension of ourselves by additions from without, it is always enlargement of ourselves by development from within; it is never something acquired, it is always something possessed; it is never a result of accumulation, it is always a result of growth."

Yes, Hamilton Wright Mabie is a little removed from our generation of writers and readers. Even in his own day, the turn of the century, there were those who found him slightly too sweet to be wholesome, too gentle to be vital, too intent on the literature of the past to serve as a guide to the literature of the present. None the less there are some of us, young and groping when he was in his prime, who owe him deep gratitude for his light and leading.

Nothing cloying we found in his urbanity, nothing emasculated in his unfailing charm; nor did his devotion to Shakespeare, to Goethe, to Dante bar our appreciation of later writers and movements. His scholarship, we grant, suffering little from the weight of lean and wasteful learning, knew naught of the rigors and disciplines of university methods; but it was real enough, however thin in places, and it somehow sustained interest and inspired vital ideals. Always, too, Mabie wrote beautifully; leisurely, civilized, courteous, allusive, faultless in diction to the point of fastidiousness, his style allured to brighter worlds and led the way.

"Consult Webster

"WIMMEN" for women, "steddy" for steady, "iland" for island, "croud" for crowd, "cag" for keg, "tung" for tongue," "aker" for acre, "grotesk" for grotesque—these surely look like a list of horrible examples picked from the compositions of rural school children, or maybe from the lucubrations of those bright high school graduates who fail in English A. Not so; they are selections from the first edition of Webster's Dictionary!

Noah Webster had the idea that American spelling should conform to American pronunciation, and to his mind American pronunciation meant the way of pronouncing words favored in New England. Subsequent editors of his book modified Webster's extremism, though favoring—and wisely—such changes as the dropping of the u in words like parlour, humour and labour. That u still finds favor in England; and devout writers in this country are still a little relectant to omit it from Saviour and glamour.

Admittedly the spelling of English is one of our sorest earthly trials, but there doesn't seem much to be done about it. The so-called simplified spelling had its chance and dismally failed. Reputable writers do not employ the form "thru" for through or eliminate the final e in discipline. Bad spelling is both a disgrace and a misfortune, so we all need to turn to the dictionary—though not Webster's first edition—in case of doubt.

The Bystander

Day Dreaming

DR. H. JACOB GOLDBERG, neé Thomas Wyman Riley, drifts into our office the other day.

"What's doing, Fink," we ask.

"I am very happy," he says.

We are very surprised indeed to hear this, as the doctor is well known to one and all as a person who usually packs a sizeable beef. Consequently, we ask him why he is happy, which is what he wants us to do in the first place.

"I am happy because I have just learned of a very fine thing that is going to be done around here," he answers.

"Tell us about it," we invite him. We always try to humor the doc.

"Well," he says, "you know how much we need a theatre around here. Ever since the old wooden shack burnt down there's been a crying need for some outlet for the dramatic talent that's fairly languishing around this place. In the last two years the boys have taken matters in their own hands and built stages of their own, in the lounge and the gym, to put on 'Ecce Homo' and have managed to do a good job at it, too. But that only went to prove the need for a theatre."

We agree, and this time we aren't just humoring him.

"I continue," he says. (He isn't quite over that debate tour yet.) "I have just learned, from a very confidential source, that within six months some sort of a theatre will be erected on the campus. The authorities aren't quite sure yet just what kind of a theatre it will be, but it will have a stage. There is even talk of doing something about that open-air theatre project started by last year's senior class. Things are finally looking up."

We are very happy indeed to hear this, and we are about to express our feelings to the doctor, when we notice something odd about his eyes. Up to this point we hadn't paid much attention to the glazed look in them, because that is nothing out of the ordinary, but now we see that this is something different. And when he begins to hum a currently popular song called "I Can Dream, Can't I?" we catch on.

We feel a little sad as we reach over and gently shake the doc's shoulder to wake him up. It was such good news that he'd told us. We wish he'd stop sleeping in the day time. With his tendency for sleep-walking, it is no business at all.

Fashion Note

We were looking over the College of Pacific Weekly the other day and happened to notice a column headed "For Men Only" . . . this is what we read in the first paragraph:

"Color splashes everywhere this spring. And one of the newest, most sun-washed is mimosa—not in a solid, harder-to-wear form, but mixed with black, in the asymetrical scarf. It's devious scarf, draped from waist, around neck, through your belt line and hanging to the edge of your hem-line breaks up what might otherwise be an unknown expanse, and takes visible inches off your area."

Mimosa, eh boys? Well, say how!

Poetry Note

From the same paper:

Spring is here,
The grass is ris.
I wonder where
